Danger In Shortcuts

In rainy weather (or when hurrying to or from work) many employees take a shortcut through the main shops. Men assigned to the shops know how to work safely there, but it can be a hazardous area for those who have no business in it or are hurrying through. Regular walkways are safe. Shortcuts can be dangerous worth it.

It is the first time this type of training has been offered to staff employees in the Industrial Relations Department. Their itinerary will include plane travel between Aruba and Miami, plane from Miami to New York, and train from New York to Miami. This will provide an opportunity not only for training and consultation in the New York and Miami offices, but also for first-hand observation of various means of modern transportation. Each man will be away from Aruba for about two weeks in connection with his training assignment.

C. W. Walker Named Chairman of CYI

C. W. Walker, general foreman of the Pipe Department, was recently named chairman of the Coin Your Ideas Committee to fill the vacancy created by the retirement of R. V. Heinze. Mr. Walker had served as CYI committeeman for many years.

In making the appointment, O. S. Mingus, general manager, pointed out in his letter that Mr. Walker's "long service in this work will prove particularly beneficial."

New Record Established In Loading Philadelphia

The men of the 12 to 8 shift of the Receiving and Shipping Department established a new record in loading the Esso Philadelphia on February 5. Working with utmost dexterity, the men loaded 112,004.73 barrels in three hours and 48 minutes for an average of 29,474.73 barrels an hour. Arthur Harman, shift foreman, supervised.

The old record was set on November 10, 1950, when the Esso Cristobal took on 165,639 barrels in five hours and 45 minutes for an average of 28,806 barrels an hour.

Deadline Extended on '30 & '39 5-10 Bills

The deadline for turning in five and ten guilder bills dated 1930 or 1939 has been extended by the Government Bank for the time being any such bills will be accepted in exchange for valid bills at the Cashiers Office in the General Office Building.

WELL DONE: With the awarding of Fls. 1000, J. J. Horigan, president, congratulates J. H. Peterson, operator in Light Oils, on his CYI idea that won top prize money in the 1951 Capital Awards.

BON TRABAO: Dunando e premio di Fls. 1000 J. J. Horigan, presidente, ta felicita J. H. Peterson, operator den Light Oils, ariba su CYI-idea cu a gana e premio di placa mas halto den e Premionan Capital di 1951.

Four Awards Won By Peterson, Newgreen, deFreitas and Luydens

Thinking on the job paid off in extra dividends for the four men who received the 1951 Capital Awards on February 4. First award of Fls. 1000 went to J. H. Peterson, operator in Light Oils Finishing. Peterson's intimate knowledge of his job led him to make the suggestion that two crude lines be connected in a new way. As a result, when his idea was put into practice, six hours of tanker time per month was saved.

F. H. Newgreen, formerly of the Medical Department but no longer a Lago employee, won the second award of Fls. 600. Newgreen suggested that the Plant Dispensary's patient folders be identified as to the return dates. Since his suggestion was put into effect in January, 1950, the Dispensary staff has had an easy means of quickly identifying those cases which are to be seen in the Quonset Hut Section, instead of having them wait until the last clinic entry is read by the receptionist. The suggestion saved the patients' time and has tended to improve morale by reducing waiting time at the Dispensary. Newgreen left the employ of Lago recently and is now in Saudi Arabia. His check will be sent to him at his new address.

J. H. deFreitas, assistant operator in the Catalytic and Light Ends Department, won Fls. 400 as third place Capital Awards winner for his suggestion of a method for recovering fresh water used by the PCAR. His idea called for the installation of facilities to recover 1000 gallons per day of fresh water used to seal the vacuum relief valves on the PCAR air blower turbine exhaust lines.

Upon investigation, it was found that the quantity of water used was specified when the unit first went into operation and was far in excess of that required. Orders were issued which reduced the water used to a negligible minimum.

B. Luydens, sales clerk "A" at the Colony Commissary, received the fourth Capital Award of Fls. 200 for a suggested change in the routine examination of food handlers. This particular idea was recognized as fitting into a gradual revision of food handler examinations. As a result of the suggestion, the once-per-month examinations previously followed were stopped and a system of unannounced spot-checks of food

Friends When You Need Them

Tragedy broke Colorado Point's afternoon serenity on February 2. One of man's most feared forms of destruction — fire — crackled its way through Apartment 6-A. When its last flame had inflicted the final bit of black destruction, it left what had been a home a mass of ugly rubble. Fire's aftermath is heartbreak. In the recent Colorado Point fire, fortunately no one was injured, but the roaring flames left the family little in a gutted and hardly distinguishable apartment. However, what little was saved and what went on in the adjoining apartments while the flames still threatened is a tribute to the people with whom we work and live. It's a comforting story of friends when we need them.

In what seemed a matter of minutes after the fire was discovered, neighbors from all over swarmed through the adjoining apartments removing personal property. At the last possible moment that entrance could be gained in Apartment 6-A, some belongings were saved. Helpful, friendly hands lost little time in removing personal belongings and furniture from the other two apartments. Community spirit and brotherly assistance above possible personal injury was never more clearly exemplified. The sincere fellowship continued from all avenues with offers of lodging and clothing to those unfortunately caught in the destruction.

Indeed, we may not know them, or even know where they live, but we have friends when we need them.

"There is no limit..."

In winding up his 17-year connection with the Coin Your Ideas Plan last month before his retirement, R. V. Heinze came up with a statistical fact that has long been buried in musty CYI records:

during the first year of operation the Plan paid Fls. 330 in awards;

during 1951 the Plan paid Fls. 40,000 in awards; or an increase of Fls. 39,670 in benefit to employees for their ideas!

The figure justifies the unbounded faith Mr. Heinze has always had in the value of suggestions to both Company and employees, and his hopes for its future. A paragraph in his final report to management tells the story:

"Although there has been much progress through the operation of the Coin Your Ideas Plan, the employees, as yet, haven't begun to apply themselves and to prove to management just how much more progress will occur in the coming years of its operation. There is no limit to possible improvements and there is no limit to the amount of money available to pay for those improvements."

"No tin limite..."

Den terminamento di su 17 anja di relacion cu Plan di Coin Your Ideas luna pasá promer cu su retiro, R. V. Heinze a presenta algun statisticu cu tabata derá pa hopi tempo den archivonan bieuw di CYI.

durante promer anja di operacion e Plan a paga Fls. 330 na premio;

durante 1951 e Plan a paga Fls. 40,000 na premio;

of un aumento di Fls. 39,670 como beneficio pa empleadonan pa nan ideanan!

E cifranan ta hustifica e confianza firme cu Sr. Heinze tabatin semper den valor di ideanan tanto pa Compania como pa empleadonan y su speranza pa futuro di e Plan. Un paragrafo den su reportage final na Directiva ta bisa:

"No obstante cu tabatin hopi progreso den operacion di Plan di Coin Your Ideas, empleadonan ainda no a cuminsa adopta nan mes y proba na Directiva cuanto mas progreso por tuma lugar den anjanan cu ta bini. No tin limite na posible mehoramentonan y no tin limite na e cantidad di placa disponibel pa paga e mehoramentonan aki."

Capacity Audiences Receive Aruba's First Health Week

When Aruba's first Health Week began February 4, residents in and around San Nicholas packed the Lago Club to capacity to observe the opening events. Several doctors addressed the public gathering on a number of subjects concerning the health of people in Aruba. Proper diet, dental care, prenatal, infant, and child care were discussed by specialists in each field. The speakers included Doctors E. G. Van Beek, R. C. Carrell, L. Crismon, J. N. Borbonus, V. Hymans, and A. J. Develing.

Health Week, a new civic movement in Aruba, was started through the organizational efforts of the Lago Nurses Glee Club, an organization which — unlike most glee clubs — does not sing, but endeavors to contribute to the happiness and well-being of the people of Aruba.

President and one of the principal founders of the club is M. E. Chase who acted as master of ceremonies during the activities of Health Week. At the opening meeting, R. Cherebin moved a vote of thanks for all who had contributed to the success of Health Week.

Climax and final event of Health Week was a health exhibition and healthy-baby contest, February 8. Two classes were entered in the contest, the first for babies.

Six prize winners were named by the doctor-judges, and each winner received several prizes donated by Aruba merchants. In first place were Jeffrey Edison Francis, son of Mrs. F. S. Francis and Eris Patricia Warner, daughter of Mrs. Mathilda Warner. Two silver dinner sets, one donated by Spritzer and Fuhrman, the other by Nutricia Baby Foods, were awarded as first prizes. In addition, the first-place winners also received prizes of baby food and milk from Nutricia and the Lactogen Company.

Second place winners were Nannette Louise Dos Ramos, daughter of Mrs. Virgilia Dos Ramos and Carmen Kruythoff, daughter of Mrs. Beatrice Kruythoff. They were awarded silver cups, donated by Berlinski stores, and additional prizes of baby food and milk by the Nutricia and Lactogen companies.

Third prize went to Raymond Deane Yenkana, son of Mrs. Khairool Yenkana, and Hanna Montnor, daughter of Mrs. Olga Montnor who each received a silver cup from Spritzer and Fuhrman and extra prizes of baby food and milk from the Nutricia and Lactogen companies.

A door prize consisting of one case of Carnation milk, donated by the Aruba Trading Company, was won by Mrs. Richardson.

Tuesday evening, there was a meeting for women only at which there was a discussion on venereal disease. The capacity attendance was interpreted by the program's sponsors as an indication of the health consciousness of the people of Aruba. Dr. Robles lectured on the subject, while Dr. Turfboer showed movies.

Recent Moves Are Announced

Organization changes affecting ten Lago employees were announced recently.

Two temporary changes result from the extended absence of F. W. Switzer to attend the executive development course at Harvard. During this period J. M. Whiteley will be acting mechanical superintendent, and K. H. Repath will be acting process superintendent.

In the Acid Plant three promotions result from the recent retirement of R. V. Heinze. M. C. Bates becomes assistant division superintendent, H. W. Humphreys becomes process foreman, and E. Spitz moves to shift foreman.

In the Industrial Relations Department, J. H. Beaujon has been assigned to a new position as assistant to personnel manager, and O. Antonette leaves the Safety Division to become employment assistant (staff and regular).

In the Mechanical Department, J. R. Proterra has been assigned to a new training position, and W. L. Edge has been promoted to general foreman of the Yard Department.

In the Marketing Division W. L. Kaestner has been appointed marketing representative, following J. H. Wubbold's transfer to Haiti.

DEATHS

Bertram J. Croes, of Oranjestad, was recently appointed consul of the Republic of El Salvador in Aruba. His nomination was made by the President and Minister of Foreign Affairs.

HEALTHIEST BABIES: The six healthiest babies in Aruba, as chosen by Lago doctors, are shown here with their mothers following the judging which was the final event of Health Week. Two winners in each prize group were named as follows: First — Jeffrey Edison Francis, Eris Patricia Warner. Second — Nannette Louise Dos Ramos, Carmen Kruythoff. Third — Raymond Deane Yenkana, Hanna Montnor. See story for prizes.

Caribe Celebrates 13th Anniversary

Optimism for the future was the general feeling that existed amid the festivities of the Caribe Sports Club's 13th anniversary celebration held recently. Lt. Gov. and Mrs. L. C. Kwartsz were among the many guests, a number of whom came over from Curaçao for the celebration.

In addressing the group, Dr. Kwartsz stated that the club has once again started progressing and that everyone is looking to the future for an active and busy organization. Jan Beaujon, club president, also spoke of the hopes for the future and expressed his wishes for more activities especially in the field of sports. Tribute was paid to Mr. Beaujon by Oslin Scholten, Caribe board member, when he reminded the guests that with the club's 13th anniversary, it was also Mr. Beaujon's 13th anniversary as club president.

TEN YEARS AGO

The longest stretch of paving in the Company's road-surfacing program was completed just about this time 10 years ago. Paving equivalent to more than seven road-miles was laid. It marked the longest continuous stretch of 1941. The road extended from Post 16, at the Lago Heights Road, to the Hospital. The paving consisted of crushed coral rock and sand, visbreaker tar and pitch.

Sportswisely, the Lago Heights basketball team, a new group formed in February, 1941, played its first game and won. The Lago representatives defeated the powerful Caribe Sports Club team 23 to 18. The new rifle range opened this month 10 years ago and was immediately put to extensive use. Rifle enthusiasts were quickly availing themselves of the new range and at the same time preparing for inter-departmental matches.

handling personnel at irregular intervals was started. This idea is reported to have saved time not only for the food handlers, but the Plant Dispensary staff as well.

J. J. Horigan, president, made the awards and expressed his personal congratulations to each winner. As chairman of the CYI committee, C. W. Walker had made the opening remarks prior to the presentations by Mr. Horigan.

O. S. Mingus, general manager, spoke briefly and pointed out that Lago is solidly in favor of the CYI plan. He indicated that it was on occasions such as the Capital Awards presentations that management could express its appreciation to employees for their participation in the plan.

He said that in his estimation and in the minds of the CYI committee the ideas for which the Capital Awards were made illustrated that thinking improves morale and saves time, money, and materials. In addition, he pointed out that it doesn't necessarily cost money to put an idea into effect.

Each winner was then asked to give his own views on the awards, and those present expressed appreciation for the awards and said they would keep trying. To be eligible for a Capital Award, a CYI must be in use at least one year and not more than two. This year, as in the past, Capital Awards were made to the four ideas which proved the most valuable during the contest period.

A Devilish Time for 1st and 2nd Graders

BE DEVILED: Various expressions are displayed by 1st and 2nd graders as they watch the antics of Jan and Katrin during the puppet show given at the Eso Club recently.

The Devil had a devil of a time at the Eso Club February 5. When he came to scare Jan Klaassan and his girl, Katrin, the Devil apparently hadn't reckoned with the 135 red-blooded 1st and 2nd grade school kids who were on hand to back Jan up. As he stomped across the stage of the Poppen Puppet Theatre, the Devil may only have been trying to build up his own courage, but at any rate he began to shout in his most Devilish way, "I am the Devil. Everybody is afraid of the Devil!"

All of this terrified no one, least of all a sweet-looking little girl of about five who seemed quite willing to take the Devil by the horns as she began to yell, "I'm not! I'm not afraid of you!" This, of course, wasn't in the script, so no one can blame the Devil for looking a little sheepish. Eventually, although he had recovered his poise when he finally came face to face with puppet hero Jan Klaassan, the Devil was no match for his intended victim.

It all began at the regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Club of Aruba at which Mrs. P. Wurtz of Oranjestad was invited to entertain the children as guests of the Club with one of her well-known puppet shows. Mrs. Wurtz has a variety of children's stories which she tells with the aid of puppets. All of the stories revolve about the adventures of Jan Klaassan and his sweetheart, Katrin.

The adventure she presented for the 1st and 2nd graders at the Woman's Club meeting had to do with some difficulty Jan was having in paying the rent. As his landlord was heartless, Jan had many of the same feelings toward him that people have toward their landlords when the rent is due but unpaid. That is where the Devil came in. By offering his help to Jan, the Devil hoped to win Jan's soul. But, like the little blond girl and many of her neighbors in the audience, Jan wasn't having any of it.

Jan got plenty of advice from the voluble audience who — like a bunch of Brooklyn Dodger fans during a tight pennant race — shouted a stream of advice at the top of their lungs. At one point there was some on-stage discussion as to how best get rid of one of the more unsavory characters. One tousle-headed little boy leaped to his feet and cried, "Shoot 'im with a B-B gun!" As this would have done little good because the character, like all the others in the play, was made of cloth and therefore not susceptible to wounds from B-B guns, the well-meant advice wasn't followed.

The long arm of the law, represented by the play's policeman, finally reached out to dispose of the Devil. And the heartless landlord (who tried unsuccessfully to have Jan thrown in jail) was himself jailed by the policeman who had been taken in by Jan's glib tongue. By that time, however, Jan had paid the landlord what he owed him.

An old crone with a large bag of tricks tucked under her Mother Hubbard skirts, came out of no-where to tell Jan where — without working — he could get the money he needed "just for being good." It was at this point that the story made its wildest departure from reality.

When the final curtain fell, Jan was being showered with kisses from his lovely and admiring Katrin and all was well. Even the sophisticated audience seemed in favor of the way things turned out. But when only the hero and heroine took curtain calls, cat calls came from several young dev — dissenters. Several strident young voices shouted, "I want to see the Devil. Show us the Devil." But the Devil, alas had gone. He, apparently, had had enough.

Health Week

Wednesday night, Dr. J. B. Van Nidek spoke at the Surinam Club on tuberculosis. Again all seating and standing space was occupied. A silent movie on tuberculosis, which was filmed in Aruba, was shown and Dr. Van Nidek told of the Government's plans for the control of tuberculosis on the Island.

One of the major projects in the Government's plans to beat tuberculosis is the proposed plan to X-ray every human chest on the Island. A very modern X-ray machines — capable of making pictures of a very small size which will reduce the problem of filing space — is to be purchased for the campaign. If detailed study of a particular person's chest is desired, the film may be enlarged.

Local Baseball Teams Defeat Curacao 2-1, 8-1

Aruba clearly outclassed Curacao on the baseball diamond February 2-3 with 2 to 1 and 8 to 1 victories registered by the Aruba All Stars and the Lago All Stars, respectively. In defeating the all star aggregation from the Curacao Baseball Association, the local teams came from behind in the first game to win on a two-run seventh inning home run by Tenchie Hoftijzer, and coasted to an easy victory in the second game that almost turned into a rout.

In Saturday's opener, Curacao was treated to a first inning gift run. Experiencing first inning wildness, Nell Harms, Aruba's pitcher, walked the first three men he faced. With the bases loaded, Curacao scored its first and only run on a fielder's choice. And so it remained until the seventh inning. Leo Kuiperi opened the inning with a walk. Moments later, his pinch-runner, J. Patterson, came home on Hoftijzer's four-base blow over the center fielder's head.

Each team made four hits. Aruba's hits came off the bats of Rene Aparicio, Roy Harms, Pedro Ruiz, and Hoftijzer.

In the second game, Hoftijzer provided the crowd with some pitching and running excitement. On the mound, Tenchie limited the visitors to three hits, and on the base-paths he stole home in the eighth. Lago opened with two runs in the first and was never headed. The local club followed with one in the fourth, two in the fifth, one in the seventh, and finished with two in the eighth. Curacao's lone run came in the eighth. Lago's five hits were made by Ramon Hodge, Cletus Mathews, Juan Perez, Leoncio Sharpe, and Hoftijzer.

Hoftijzer lost his shut-out through a touch of wildness on his part. With the bases loaded and two out in the eighth, he walked in the lone run. He eliminated further pressure by striking out the next batter.

A friendship trophy was presented to Perez by Curacao's Hector Rosario following the second game. Perez retaliated by giving Rosario the Lago Cup won by the Lago All Stars.

San Nicholas Branch Library To Open In Near Future

A branch of the Oranjestad Library will be opened in San Nicholas in the near future, it was announced recently by Dr. Johan Hartog, librarian. Plans for the branch library call for a complete cataloging of all books in the main library which may be drawn through this index.

In making the announcement, Dr. Hartog stated that the actual number of books that the new branch will carry will be relatively small, but this fact will be offset in that through the cataloging San Nicholas readers may draw any of the 10,000 books in the Oranjestad Library. Forms will be available at the San Nicholas branch for readers to fill out indicating the reading matter they desire and it will be delivered to their home within a day or two.

It was also announced that the New York Times air edition is now available in the reading room of the main library. Also available are La Esfera, the Caracas daily, and two Amsterdam dailies flown here. Dr. Hartog further stated that the library in Oranjestad now has chemical and technical encyclopedias in English. Magazines on hand include Vogue, Saturday Evening Post, Atlantic, US Camera, Good Housekeeping, Time and Mercury. Directories and guides of principal countries are also available.

"Bula Waya" World Premiere Staged In Bolivariana

Aruba theatre-goers enjoyed the first showing of the Bula Waya Revue in a sold-out Sociedad Bolivariana on February 2. It was the general feeling that this folkloristic revue of native songs, dances, and customs would meet with acclaim during its tour of the Netherlands Antilles. The revue will also be highlighted in the first Caribbean festival of music, the Festival de San Juan, in Puerto Rico this August.

Simplicity and ingenuity are the keynotes of the plot. Charley Three, played by Caito Boom, is an American who recently toured the Netherlands Antilles. He extols the beauty of these islands. In order to relate his story, he "hypnotizes" his audience. While the audience is in this supposed trance, he joins a women peanut vendor and unfolds the typically native tamboe. The bastel, zumbi, simadan, and tamboe songs and dances are performed in their native setting. The theme song Bula Waya is featured in a dramatic grand finale.

The play is produced jointly by the Aruba and Curaçao tourist commissions. The director of music is Padu del Caribe.

An added attraction was the appearance of the six girls who appeared in Curaçao as representatives of Aruba in the beauty contest to select the queen of the Netherlands Antilles. The queen will appear at the Havana Carnival.
